

Comment on Passing Events.

By Frederic Heath

Two Socialists have just been elected to parliament in benighted Spain.

Roosevelt has received a degree at Oxford—the D. C. L. degree. But it should have been B. C. S.—Bull in a China Shop degree.

Mark Hanna was an astute prophet. He said Socialism was the next big problem and both Roosevelt and Taft have not been able to laugh or defile it out of court.

It is predicted that the Social-Democrats will poll more than one-half of the total votes of Germany at the next general election, according to Karl Kautsky, editor of the Neue Zeit.

The corporations have been holding a Republican state convention in Milwaukee this week. The Republican party has a right to be true to itself and the corporations since it ceased to be the party of Lincoln.

Socialism will bring peace and plenty, justice and order to a jarring and pinched and an evil and anarchistic civilization. Taft sees it coming and, capitalism's advocate that he has always been, is making speeches against it. The great struggle will enlist the best blood and the kindest minds of our generation. It will call for heroes, not Tafts.

Taft says Socialism is the next great problem of the world must face. And he is right. Compared to it the struggle to end negro slavery was a mere sectional and incidental affair, costly as it was. It is a great privilege to have been born into the era of the world's history when a great history-making struggle is impending. It is the great opportunity of the young man of today.

Vice President Sherman, a member of the capitalist plunderbund of the nation, while in Milwaukee the past week, refused to express himself on Socialism. In this he showed some wisdom, for I have noticed that, without exception, every "great" statesman who has talked publicly about Socialism has exhibited crass ignorance of the subject, and none more so than Roosevelt and Taft.

In Milwaukee's congested wards there are ordinary dwellings now used as the sleeping places of the latest importations of cheap-labor hunting, capitalism, in which the sleeping is done by a day shift and a night shift. In some instances, with the Greeks especially, the night men sleep on mattresses that are stored under the beds by day and the day men on mattresses that get their airing under the beds by night.

It is notable that just while Phelps Stokes was retelling that jaundiced Walling stuff about Milwaukee, Daniel De Leon, also of New York, who has been a critic of Milwaukee these many years, felt constrained to accord the Milwaukee administration praise for its sanity and its revolutionary integrity. Despite all that has been said in his paper, he says, "the fact

An Announcement

Walter Thomas Mills, who is just back from Great Britain, where he has been actually at work for four months under the auspices of the Independent Labor party, will prepare a series of articles for The Social-Democratic Herald, which will appear weekly for some weeks to come, beginning next week.

Here are some of the subjects which he will discuss:

1. For a Better Understanding.
2. The Trades Unions of Earlier Days.
3. The New Unionism.
4. The Co-operative Societies.
5. British Political Parties.
6. The Surviving King.
7. The Naming of Candidates.
8. In Campaign Time.
9. The Municipal Programs.
10. The Propaganda.
11. The Socialist Organizations.
12. The Party in Parliament.
13. What of the Morrow?

In this connection it may be stated that Mr. Mills has just begun a year's trip around the greater part of the globe, during which he will act as special commissioner in municipal industrial enterprises for the city of Milwaukee, and that he will carry a commission bearing the signature of Mayor Seidel and the seal of the city. He will spend some time in Great Britain, some four months on the European continent, visit South Africa, New Zealand, Australia, etc., and send Milwaukee the results of his investigations.

He has already given Mayor Seidel many interesting facts regarding municipal undertakings in Great Britain. Glasgow, Scotland, he says, for instance, has just this year finished paying off its bonds for the establishment of municipal industrial enterprises. From now on the city will have no interest to pay on bonds for these municipal undertakings. Moreover, it will receive some $750,000 a year in income from these enterprises and the Socialists are fighting to have this income used as capital for new municipal activities, among others, the erection of municipal suburban residences for workingmen—a very good way of meeting the old impossibility of raising suburban rents, by the way.

remains that the victory was won under the flag of Socialism," and that the self-control shown after election by the Milwaukee Socialists has been "a solid gain for the revolution."

J. C. Hutchins, president of the street car system in Detroit, must feel somewhat embarrassed at the resurrection and publication of an opinion he gave to the late Mayor Pingree in 1899 to the effect that municipal street cars can be operated much cheaper than privately owned street cars. Yet it is patent enough. Privately owned systems have to earn enormous profits for hungry stockholders and this requires high fares, not to speak of cheap service. And a city would not have to pay fat salaries nor corruption money with which to buy aldermen and legislators and help elect judges.

Says The Cleveland Citizen: "Milwaukee is 'making good' and don't you forget it. Among other things the workers now in control, whose 'dreams' were sneered at by the political grafters, are going into a comprehensive scheme to erect model homes for the working people.

"It's not the plums alone who are to live in fine houses and on parked streets, but the merry proletariat is going to be given a chance to get out of the stuffy tenements and into the pure air and sunlight and live like a human being."

That's the idea! The Milwaukee chief of police became much disturbed when the Social-Democrats in the common council passed a resolution granting the policemen a day off every two weeks, and set in motion all sorts of underground wires to try to force the council to rescind its action. A curious phase of this campaign of the chief's is the fact that many of the city newspapers have come out editorially against the "offs," in editorials that must have been procured by the chief and showing the long arm such an official has who is, after all, the police chief of the capitalist interests. Among newspaper men another explanation is given. The chief's methods are notoriously those of blackmail. It is alleged that he has for years held over the heads of certain newspaper managing editors certain bits of their personal history and that the editorials referred to above were written under the crack of his blackmail whip.

A report has just been made to the British government by Courtney W. Bennett, British consul general in New York, in which he cautions emigrants against assuming that New York is an Eldorado for the workingman. "It is not," he says. "The expenses of living are so high and so constantly rising that a man in regular work in the United Kingdom at lower wages is as well off as better off than his fellow workmen in New York at the higher wages here, while if out of work he is better off at home. It is estimated that to live in decency here a man with a wife and two children must spend just $1,000 a year."

And it costs a barrel of money to live elsewhere in the United States also. And the people are going to stand it just as long as they can keep their patience and then something is going to break loose politically that will leave the old party political carcasses festering in the sun like so many poisoned pups, if I may be permitted the expression.

And this explains why Roosevelt and Taft are now so agitated over Socialism!

The trend of public opinion is forcing the legal fraternity to concede a few things. The following dispatch has been called to my attention:

New York, June 1.—The system under which the law is administered in this country is 100 years behind the age; the procedure in equity cases is a scandal to our jurisprudence; many cases are decided not on their merits, but purely on technical questions; and not only has something got to be done about it, but something will be done about it. This is the sum total and substance of a statement given out by a joint committee on reform in legal procedure of the National Bar association.

The legal fiction about the sacredness of the courts, which has been built up year after year, has acted as an opiate upon the victims of our distorted judicial system, so that they have suffered with resignation what they considered the inevitable. But the Socialists have been sounding warning cries and sooner or later relief must come. Today the courts are the refuge of big rascals. Money talks nowhere, so viciously as in our courts, for law costs money.

And in this connection comes another admission from the court circles. In Milwaukee the past week a federal judge has decided that public opinion is the real law and that a court must follow public opinion rather than a law that has only been honored in the breach. This looks like getting the law back to the people, where it should be.

The clean people of Milwaukee are vastly pleased with Mayor Seidel and the Social-Democratic administration. While it is interesting to see how Socialists go about it so apply themselves to routine duties as well as to the problems, it is pretty safe to say that the average going Milwaukeean never expected to see things handled with such headwork and neatness as has been thus far displayed. And the atmosphere of it all is so sweet and honest and wholesome! One of the greatest administrative tasks the Socialists have on their hands is their plan of completely reorganizing the public works department. A man, a Social-Democrat, with technical training as well as a level head and the faculty of initiative, has assumed the great work, and at his "presto, change," there will fall away the old regime of grafting, tricky contract work, crookedly straight streets, dishonest ward work, and in its place Milwaukee will have progressive, scientific and economical public work for the first time. Public work in Milwaukee under both old parties has long been simply a clearing house for petty jobbery and corporation grafts. It would not be hard to simply "make good" by a mere honest administration, but that would be the least. The Social-Democrats will give not only honest supervision and honest work, but they mean to put public work on a scientific, specialized basis.

Ex-President Roosevelt—Col. Roosevelt, who was the hero of San Juan hill, by being at a safe distance on another hill, is again jousting Socialism—and helping to set the people thinking about it.

"Just as little can we afford to follow the doctrines of an impossible—incidentally a highly undesirable—social revolution which, in destroying individual rights (including property rights) and the family, would destroy the two chief agents in the advance of mankind, and the two chief reasons why either the advance or the preservation of mankind is worth while. It is an evil and a dreadful thing to befall on to sorrow and suffering, and blind to our duty to do all things possible for the betterment of social conditions. But it is an unspeakably foolish thing to strive for this betterment by means so destructive that they would leave no social conditions to better. In dealing with all these social problems, with the intimate relations of the family, with wealth in private use and business use, with labor, with poverty, the one prime necessity is to remember that, though hardness of heart is a great evil, it is no greater an evil than softness of head."

"The all-important factor in national greatness is national character," and the capitalist system, that Frenzied Theodore is spokesman for, is the one thing that is debasing na-

Banker Calls Wisconsin University Socialistic

Ripon, Wis.—Seventy-five bankers of northern and eastern Wisconsin, members of Group 3, Wisconsin Bankers' association, met in the Ripon college chapel here today.

A. J. Frame of Waukesha, one of the chief speakers, in part, said: "I reluctantly criticize the great University of Wisconsin more particularly on the point of its teachings on economics."

"I love the institution and believe in it, as is evidenced by my sending two of my sons to it, sixteen and eighteen years ago. The institution has done exceptional work and has become known widely, the agricultural department especially doing magnificent work of late."

"And I desire to criticize it only in one respect. When I sent my sons there I charged them not to imbibe the teachings of Dr. Ely, because in my judgment he taught Socialistic fallacies which to my mind were destructive to human progress."

"Socialists are largely honest in their theories," Mr. Frame said in conclusion, "but practically they deaden human progress the world over. Unless we turn the tide, they will undermine THE GREAT PROSPERITY WHICH WE NOW ENJOY."

national character, and setting men at each other's throats to determine who shall survive and who shall perish! Also, it is the enemy of the family—what Socialism is not—a scandalous capitalism to the contrary notwithstanding.

Here's a How D'ye Do!

Washington.—That the national conference of charities and corrections, which has just adjourned in St. Louis, refused to utter a word in condemnation of the "vicious, antiquated, brutal contract system of convict labor," because Edward Boyle, its treasurer, is the attorney for the "prison trust," is the charge made by the National Free Labor Association. Edward Boyle, leader of charity work, has not only represented the exploiters and oppressors of convicts in their fight before congress against the passage of bills, which if made law would abolish interstate commerce in prison-made goods, but he is also known as the attorney for the "prison trust" and its subsidiary companies, as follows:

1. The Reliance-Sterling Manufacturing company, shirt manufacturers with fourteen prison contracts from Rhode Island to South Dakota.
2. J. H. Winterbotham & Sons, cooperative contract at Indiana penitentiary, Michigan City.

A Milwaukee Revolution "Delayed"

A Lively Meeting of Aldermen--The One-Man Public Works Commissioner Will Qualify in Time Despite Obstructors--Chief Still Fighting Offs for Policemen

Milwaukee. — A bootless fight against an appointee of the mayor was one of the features of Monday's meeting of the city council. It was bootless because the end sought—delay—was impossible of attainment. Under the rules the delay could only be for two weeks, and a confirmation at the next meeting will put the appointee into office just as soon as would have been the case had there been no obstruction Monday. And it was amusing to see certain old party aldermen of great pretensions to non-partisanship, train with the bunch.

The appointment was that of Harry E. Briggs to be commissioner of public works—the one man commissioner who will supersede and crowd off the stage the three hold-over public works commissioners and retire the city-engineer from the presidency of the board.

Mayor Seidel made the appointment when he first took office, as a tentative one. That is, it had been decided to secure the country for a top-notch scientific man to occupy the top-notch position. It was proposed that an appointment be made at once—as required by the law which enabled a change to a one-man commission—the appointee not to be confirmed and to step aside when the right man was secured. And then in looking round for a loyal comrade for the sacrificial role, the scientific attainments and splendid qualifications of Harry E. Briggs of the Milwaukee school of trades, attracted attention, and he readily agreed to take the appointment with a string to it, but with the understanding that he would accept if certain men the mayor was in quest of all refused. They did refuse, and so Monday the confirmation of Comrade Briggs was asked for by the committee on public buildings and grounds.

Under the charter one-fifth of the aldermen are enough to lay over a committee report for one meeting and three more than the required seven voted for the delay.

But they will be powerless for further mischief at the next meeting, so that the revolution in the public works department will begin on scheduled time!

Ald. Corcoran (D.) fought the appointment and moved that it lay over two weeks.

Ald. Welch (S.) appealed to the Democrats and Republicans to let the appointment go through, suggesting that they vote against it if they desired, but not lay the matter over, as they could under the rules. There was no question of Mr. Briggs' qualifications, he said.

"I have sufficient confidence in the mayor, if I have not in his party," said Ald. Wright (R.), "to assume that he has selected a fairly competent and honest man for the position, and I am ready to vote for the confirmation of the appointment. It is a matter of common knowledge that since it became reasonably sure that the present board was to be done away with, the work of the department has been greatly demoralized. Therefore, I am in favor of settling the matter now."

Ald. Carney (D.) "slippery Joe," also took the floor to urge obstruction, and when it went to vote only three old partisans out of the bi-partisan opposition voted for confirmation.

Socialists Spring Sensation

Interest in this play on the floor was quickly put aside as the next matter taken up was read. It was a communication from the mayor presenting the startling fact that the street railway company had been dodging the street car license for years and that it owed the city a big bunch of money—over $72,000. The mayor said the city attorney had investigated and found that the Milwaukee Electric Railway and Light company had since 1898 failed to pay a license fee of $15 a car a year as required by law, and that the companies of which the street railway company is assignee failed to pay the then license fee of $10 a car a year since 1898. This is simply one of the relatively little things that are covered up so long as the old parties are on guard in the city departments. The matter was referred to the committee on judiciary to give the street railway a hearing.

Special Privileges Refused

Several bay window special privileges were denied. A report by a special engineer that the waste steam from the new garbage plant would generate electricity for 900 arc lights of 3,000 candle power, was referred to committee.

A Sobbing Police Chief

Chief Janssen sent in a communication, blotted with crocodile tears, urging the aldermen to reverse their action in granting the policemen a day off every two weeks. The city would go straight to the demerit bow-wow if they were allowed their off, according to the chief and bankruptcy and unneeded crime would be certain. The socialist aldermen exchanged amused glances, for they had in mind the fact that the chief had been granted the right to secure extra men some months before and that money had been appropriated to meet Edward Boyle is the senior member of the law firm of Boyle, Mott & Haight, 218 La Salle building, Chicago, Ills.

Edward Boyle also controls the Abraham R. Baldwin Company, dealers in "prison stripes."

Not only is the "prison trust" powerful enough to have its attorney hold the office of treasurer of the National Conference of Charities and Corrections, but a director and stockholder of the Reliance-Sterling Manufacturing company, the largest prison contracting firm in the country, also wields the judicial mantle of a high state court. Judge Watson of the appellate court, of Indiana helps all the prisons with men, and afterwards gets the profits derived from their re-quituted toil.

The London Socialist Review (monthly) pays this tribute to the Social-Democrats of Milwaukee in its current issue:

Our congratulations to Milwaukee, to our courageous Comrade Victor Berger, the leader of its Socialists, are late, but they must be expressed. As Mr. Mills tells our readers in the interesting article which appears in this issue, Milwaukee is the center in America of that type of Socialist propaganda which is associated with the Independent Labor party in this country. Its leaders have been attacked by every section of "clean" Socialists, and only this year had to fight for their position in the national organization. They have elected a mayor by a majority of 7,709; they have secured 21 out of 35 seats on the council and a majority on the new county board, they hold the important subordinate city offices. Nor has this been done by some wild spirit which will probably die away. Since 1898 their vote has been steadily growing. That year it was 2,414; in 1900, it was 2,473; in 1902, 8,453; in 1904, 15,056; in 1906, 16,837; in 1908, 20,887; and now it has reached 27,622. The difficulties of city government in America are colossal. It is said that the new mayor has been besieged by applicants for office—none of them Socialists, it is explained; but we hope that the moralizing effect of the Socialist propaganda will enable the voters of Milwaukee to appreciate the new regime. Its program has already been announced. There is to be an equitable

Victor L. Berger's Eastern Tour

VICTOR L. BERGER'S lecturing trip to the eastern cities has been quite a remarkable one, measured by the attention the capitalist press paid to the "man who won Milwaukee for Socialism."

The newspapers since the Milwaukee victory regard Socialism as its most notable spokesman.

In New York he was besieged by reporters from the moment he crossed the ferry and for the first time in the history of the United States the press looked to a Social-Democrat for the people's answers to the big men of the other parties, on various subjects as well as Socialism.

All the daily papers printed column interviews with display heads, and The New York Times of Sunday, June 5, devoted a whole page with illustrations to a general interview ranging from how Milwaukee files government by Socialists to the attacks upon Socialism by capitalists, capitalist "statesmen," capitalist clericals, and so on.

The educational and propaganda value of all this has been great, and better yet has given eastern readers a better idea of the constructive side of the Socialist movement, not to mention a certain type of sectarian inside our own fold. His lectures have attracted large audiences in New York, Philadelphia and other cities.

The following interview, somewhat condensed, which is taken from The Philadelphia Ledger, was one of the best published and was made the basis of a press dispatch that followed close on the heels of the president's attack on the Socialists:

"Capitalism is Socialism for the few and hell for the many," declared Victor L. Berger, the Socialist leader of Milwaukee, in commenting upon President Taft's speech Saturday, at Jackson, Mich., in which the chief executive characterized the movement as the great problem confronting the American people and the issue that soon must be skillfully met.

"The president is intensely capitalist in his tendencies, but he has come to recognize Socialism as a power in the country," said Mr. Berger, in an interview previous to an address in Labor Lyceum hall, Sixth and Brown streets, yesterday afternoon.

"The great question at the present time in the development of the country is that of distribution—If the capitalists can solve that, let them show it. Capitalism has had its mission, and it has culminated in the establishment of the trust."

"The trust is all right for those on the inside, but we want to get on the inside and then the trusts will be Socialism for everybody. The trust is the legitimate outcome of the idea of capitalism."

"If Mr. Roosevelt was at the head of the trust he could scarcely be able to accomplish better results than those now in the position of power. The owners have nothing to do with the question of production any more, and we want to make the trust public property."

"The substitution of collective ownership for individual ownership would solve the question of distribution, in that the working class would be enabled to get more that what they actually produce and the poorer classes would get greater value for what they pay."

At this point Mr. Berger wished to make a local comparison and inquired:

"Who is your head grafter here?" But he completed his sentence with the name of James P. McNichol before a suggestion could be offered.

Comrade Berger's speeches in New York on constructive methods attracted interested attention and even The N. Y. Daily Call (Socialist), the home paper of Phelps Stokes, had this to say, in part, editorially:

"In his address at Lyric hall, Victor Berger said that he would undertake to win New York for Socialism in five years, at least in ten years. And he added, 'forever.'"

"We firmly believe Comrade Berger is right. Notwithstanding the many great difficulties that New York presents to the propaganda of Socialism, difficulties of a kind such as few other great cities present, New York can be won for Socialism, provided the Socialists go about the work in the right way."

The great Milwaukee victory has already conferred upon the entire Socialist movement of this country an inestimable benefit. It has riveted imposition of city taxes, efficient sanitary inspection and administration of the pure food laws. The policy of municipalization is to be pursued, and bribery and corruption are to be stamped out. Direct employment at union rates is to be the rule. Public coal and wood yards, and an ice supply, are to be started, and schemes for dealing with the unemployed set on foot. Education is to be made free, and the city is "to afford the protection of the law to such of its citizens as cannot afford it themselves."

From the Milwaukee city council to the French chamber of deputies is a far cry, but not for international Socialism. Our French comrades have gone through another election, the net result being that they have won over 20 seats. Their vote for the first time has reached 1,000,000. The defeat at Lyons of Pressence is greatly to be regretted, whilst Longuet's second repulse in the Federation de l'Aisne is also a misfortune. Allemagne has also gone down in the second ballot by the very narrow margin of seven. On the other hand, readers of the Socialist Review will be pleased at the success of our frequent contributor, Albert Thomas, who has been returned on the second ballot for a division in Paris. The feature of this election has been the width of the field upon which the Socialists fought. Well may a writer in l'Humanite boast that the gospel of Socialism has this time been carried into every corner of France, to peasants and agricultural laborers, to the small shopkeepers and business men in the country, as well as to the wage earners in the large towns. France has been polled and the response has been gratifying; while also, it must be noted, the Anti-Parliamentary Trade Unionists and Socialist Anarchists were particularly active in opposition to the Socialist candidates, and a manifesto was issued against them. This makes the success of our friends at the polls all the more conspicuous and satisfactory.

The amusing part of the sensational exposure of Taft's complicity in the falsification of dates in connection with Helioguer exoneration is the only effort of the corporation press to whitewash Taft's dishonest participation on the score of his unsuspecting good nature, etc., etc.

The Glavis charges against Ballinger, the secretary of the interior, put him before the people as a pal of the big land thieves. Hight was back of Glavis. Taft came to the aid of Ballinger's reputation, and last September ordered Glavis' dismissal from the interior department. This was followed up by the forced resignation of Pinchot. The country was aroused and congress began an investigation. In response to any reports, papers, etc., on which Taft based his decision in the case, an elaborate opinion drawn up by Atty. Gen. Wickersham was produced, which later turned out to have been prepared after the Glavis dismissal and dated back for the purpose of deception. And Taft had to admit that he was a party to the falsification of the date. Then came the further exposure that the letter of exoneration of Ballinger by Taft was not written by him, but was prepared in Ballinger's office—and Taft admitted that, too, when there was no getting away from it.

This, then, is the innocent offense of an "unsuspecting, good-natured" president. But dishonesty is dishonesty, no matter where found. And such a paper as The Milwaukee Free Press mourns because the people of this country do not accord their rulers the same blind affection that kingcraft gets in Europe!

Big Socialist Gain in Denmark

Although the increase in the number of Socialist deputies is as slight in this year's election to the lower house of parliament as in that of 1909, the number of votes cast by the Socialists shows the usual remarkable increase.

In the election to the folkething in 1909 the Socialists polled 93,079 votes in seventy districts. This time, however, although the coalition with the radicals had reduced the number of Socialist candidates to fifty-five, the number of Socialist votes increased to 98,719. The increase in votes from election to election seems to be a regularly established fact.

The Socialist vote in 1895 was 24,430; in 1898, 31,880; in 1901, 43,153; in 1903, 57,578; in 1906, 76,612. If the advance from 1909 to 1910 is not as great as in the earlier periods it can naturally be laid to the fact that in this instance only a single year has elapsed between elections.

The former minister of war and a fanatic militarist, Gen. Madsen, was defeated by Comrade Schmidt in the Seventh election district of Copenhagen.

The campaign was conducted vigorously by the Socialists and everything was done to enlighten the mass of the people and to smooth the way for Socialist development. Socialists in Copenhagen made use of the phonograph and with this medium an election speech of Borgbjerg was heard in over a hundred house courts and gateways.

Why the Public Seems Indifferent

Reason Why Immigrants Do Not Benefit Their Conditions by Coming to America

By Silas Hood.
(Written for The Herald.)

HERE is a headline which appeared in The Milwaukee Journal the other day:

"Good Times Come—The Arrival of Immigrants Means Prosperity—Coming of 5,000 Into This Country Every Day Considered a Barometer of Industrial and Business Conditions."

At this rate the influx of foreigners is more than a million and a half a year. Within the last twelve months the records show that more than 1,000,000 immigrants have landed in the United States.

And when immigrants are working for 65 cents a day at the American Car and Foundry company at Detroit; coolies for 20 cents a day on the Pacific coast; and there are more men than jobs even at that rate of wage service, isn't it about time that the steamship trust and other capitalist pirates should be notified that their alluring advertisements about "glorious opportunities, and employment in the United States for the industrious," is a barefaced fraud? It is worse than fraud, for many of the industrious new-comers are forced into conditions of squalor because of the capitalist brutality which shortens their lives. It is worse than fraud; it is murder!

Immigrants Deceived

Nine-tenths of the Asiatic and European immigrants would not come to the United States if they had not been deceived. They do not benefit their economic condition by coming here. The class struggle is just as intense in America, both in the east and west, as it is in Europe, and with the exception perhaps of Russia, the writer would urge that all of the members of the working class remain in their own countries. There is every reason why they should not come here, and every reason why they should remain at home.

In their native land the immigrants who come here are able to make enough to pay the steamship companies and railroad companies big profits, and they are physically strong and in good health when they depart for "the land of promise and glorious opportunity" or they would not be permitted to land in "free" America. The capitalists fixed the immigration laws to suit themselves, and the legal requirements of the working class must have health and strength enough to be able to grind out profits for the class that rules but does not toil.

Misery and Toil

Keep in mind the healthy looking men, women and children who come here, willing and anxious to do even more than their share of the world's service. Then picture in your mind the miserable and wretched condition of this useful class after a few years of battle against tremendous odds with the trust owners as their masters. Take a look into the crowded germ-infested consumption districts of New York, Chicago, Cleveland and elsewhere; go into the dens of squalor in the Pittsburgh and Allegheny, where typhoid constantly rages and where the filth provided by the capitalist exploiters, will not permit healthy human beings to long endure the struggle; go to the mining districts of Scranton and Wilkes-Barre, where the housing conditions are equally as terrible as they are in Philadelphia, Buffalo and other industrial centers, and see the maimed bodies and enfeebled children, who are by worse than brute force, compelled to struggle and toil. And for what? Just for the privilege of remaining in wretchedness a little longer on earth, where they haven't a resting place worthy of the name of home, and where they can see, if they have a grain of reason left, their condition getting lower and lower in the scale of life.

Beauties of Capitalism

Add to the foregoing strikes, lock-outs, blacklists, expulsions, long hours of labor, dangerous occupations, poverty, Pinkerton and industrial brutality and a score of other evidences of the heaviest and murderous rule of capitalist America, and you find that these United States instead of offering a harbor, of opportunity for industrious immigrants, give to them, with but few exceptions, a living hell.

These conditions were not so a generation ago, and generations before that. Then capitalism here was not so firmly entrenched with its power of co-operation. But now the steel works, the mills, factories, foundries, construction work and many other American industries which absorb this vast army of steady, industrious class of immigrants, are so controlled by the combination of American capital, with its manufacturers' associations, civic alliances, and civic federations, as auxiliaries, that even the ambitions and lives of the majority of the foreign workers now coming here are at the mercy of this merciless class of profit-mongers.

Conditions Made Worse

English, Irish, Italian, Scandinavian, Welsh, Austrian, Hungarian, German, or any other European member of the working class, with the possible exception of the Russian Jew, DOES NOT benefit his material condition in the least by coming to the United States to seek new opportunities. In fact, his condition is made the worse. Unless a foreigner comes here provided with sufficient funds to go into the business of farming, where he could provide himself and family with nearly enough to sustain life, without the interference of the powerful trusts, he will lose in the game in the battle for existence. And if he has sufficient funds to go into the farming game here he might better become a farmer in his native country, for the struggle could be no more severe there than here.

Stay in Europe

This being true, there is no reason at all why a foreigner should now seek a new home in America. The principal reason that he should stay in his native land at the present time is that he CAN BE OF USE POLITICALLY THERE. At home, in the majority of cases, he can make use of his franchise. Here he is of no use politically for five years, and the class struggle is so intense here, and steady employment so uncertain that even if he becomes a citizen after a residence of five years, he is kept moving by his masters because of the industrial strife, especially if a million or more of his foreign brothers are annually poured into the country, already burdened with an army seeking jobs.

The foreigners who are already here are of some use politically if they have been here long enough, or if they have children who have political rights. But they will not have an opportunity to exercise those political rights if the foreign rush continues, because these new-comers make the class struggle harder and harder to bear and their coming keeps the working classes constantly on the move to the various industrial centers where their masters can make the GREATEST USE OF THEM INDUSTRIALLY, and where they can be OF THE LEAST USE TO THEMSELVES POLITICALLY.

Voting Privileges Destroyed

This constantly increasing struggle deprives more than 40 per cent of the industrial workers of their political privileges about 75 per cent of the time.

In view of the facts I contend that it would be better for the prospective immigrants themselves to remain where they can assist in the class struggle instead of coming here, where they not only encounter worse industrial conditions than they had at home, but where they keep the members of their own class divided, and aid the capitalists in destroying their industrial and political strength. And it is my belief that it is the duty of the Socialist party of America to acquaint our foreign brothers and comrades with the story of the true state of affairs, and thereby assist in exposing the fraud of the steamship companies and other capitalist pirates.

America no longer is a refuge for the industrious and down-trodden of Europe, as the alluring capitalist advertisements proclaim. The stars and stripes no longer protect a man here. The government is owned and controlled by the interests and its ruthless power is exerted to further enslave the best mankind of the world. And the high prices of food and the low wages paid today gives the United States a working class here that is miserably underfed, and this great and powerful class, beyond all question, is being slowly but surely starved. And the hopes of the Socialists is not to be realized soon or late if the capitalist brutality is permitted to longer continue for another generation of relentless toil, underfeeding and squalor will give us a race that will scarcely be fitted either physically, mentally or morally to carry on the work of the world to a higher and nobler existence.

Comrade Freeman Knowles, editor of The Lantern, of Deadwood, S. D., died June 7 of pneumonia.

Comrade Knowles was a veteran of the civil war and one time a member of congress, being elected on the Populist ticket. He was a carpenter by trade and for many years has been active in the labor movement and in its behalf successfully fought the recently proposed military law. Being a staunch defender of the Western Federation of Miners, he was in consequence the defendant in many law suits. For the last six years he has been a member of the Socialist party and a member of the national committee 1906-09.

There is no man in South Dakota who has had the confidence and respect of the working class in equal measure to that accorded Comrade Knowles.

The office of The Register, of Lead, S. Dak., was broken into in the early morning of June 1 and the producing machinery was badly damaged. No arrests have been made.

The Register is the official organ of the Western Federation of Miners in that district. At present there is a lockout enforced against the union miners by the Homestake company, which belongs to the Hearst estate. The smaller bosses have also been induced to join in the war upon unionism.

Building Progressing Rapidly

The work on the new home which the People's Realty company is erecting for the Social-Democratic Publishing company, is now progressing quite rapidly.

The excavating work is all done and the concrete foundation footings are ready to bear their burdens.

The false work for the basement cement walls and pillars is now in the course of erection.

The foundation is being put in with a capacity to carry an eight-story building when the business of the company demands it. For the present it will be four stories and basement of concrete and pressed brick.

The excavators have finished their work and the contractors for the concrete, electric lighting, plumbing, elevator service and heating have all been let. The building will be heated with the celebrated Van Aken system of vacuum heating. The contractors are all under bond to have their work completed by the first of December, 1910.

Inquiries as to when the Milwaukee Social-Democrats will start a daily paper come to the office of the Social-Democratic Publishing company every day. The answer to that question is that it will be very shortly after the new building is completed. About the length of time after that date which it will take to install an up-to-date daily newspaper plant.

Farmers in the Railroad Business

Do the farmers know that the Northern Pacific Railroad company has gone into the farming business? This big corporation has several thousand Montana acres devoted to truck farming and poultry raising. The company says it intends to furnish eggs, chickens and vegetables for its dining car service. The Northern Pacific farm also has gone into the dairy business and milk and butter is provided. And when they produce more than they can use they will not throw it away—but SELL IT IN THE OPEN MARKET IN COMPETITION WITH THE FARMERS. Update delegates should remind our farmers that the Burlington, the C. & N. W., and the C. M. & St. P. may also decide to go into the farming business. If the farmer can't see his finish, if capitalism lasts, he deserves his hard lot.

Helping the Enemy!

James Phelps Stokes is furnishing mighty good material for the capitalist newspaper editors. This ultra-revolutionary gentleman lectured at a New York Collectivist Society dinner against the Milwaukee kind of Socialism. Joe Pulitzer's New York World and St. Louis Post-Dispatch were over-anxious to give Mr. Stokes a good "boost." Indeed, we may praise the Lord that the American movement is burdened with the Stokes class of banquet and dinner speech Socialist! Where would the Socialist movement be without them?—Labor, St. Louis.

Socialism Inevitable

Socialism is inevitable. It is right. It is in the line of least resistance. It is on the way to the highlands—not the way to real civilization, not the starchy, hypocritical, suppositious, so-called kind palmed off by pietists and pickpockets, such as we are called upon to contemplate and endure around us today, but civilization based on the shining and imperishable foundations of Brotherhood and Mutual Love.—Prof. J. Howard Moore authority, if any, said board has given to private individuals to give same.

Notes

Mrs. Dora B. Montefiore, the noted British suffragist, who is a member of the Social-Democratic Federation of England, was an interested spectator at Monday's meeting, in company with Mayor Seidel, Mrs. Victor L. Berger, Frederic Heath and others.

The new commissioner, Harry E. Briggs, is a Social-Democrat and an active party member for years. He is 34 years old, a graduate of the university of Michigan and a mechanical engineer. He was formerly employed in the Westinghouse shops in Pittsburgh. Ten years ago he came to Milwaukee and worked for the Allis-Chalmers company as draftsman. Several years ago he returned to the Westinghouse shops at Pittsburgh and was rapidly promoted until, at the time he accepted a professorship in

Milwaukee Supervisors on the Job

Milwaukee: Some surprise was occasioned at Tuesday's meeting of the county board of supervisors when the Republican and Democratic members—the whole six of them—flocked together to draft action on committee report. It asked the sheriff to remove from service a brutal deputy sheriff who had struck unconscious a young man who sought to get into an elevator at the city hall while prisoners were being taken down. The brutal assault by the deputy, who was formerly a prize fighter, was defended by the sheriff, who refused to investigate.

One of the Socialist supervisors introduced a resolution calling for an inquiry. This brought out testimony that left no room for doubt as to the danger to the community of allowing such a brute to stay in an official position and the Socialists on the committee reported in favor of asking the sheriff to remove the man.

Supervisor Mensing (S.-D.) defended the majority report.

"I resent this 'public be damned' attitude of the sheriff," said Supervisor Mensing. "The sheriff has acted throughout as though the affair was none of anybody's business. I concede that this board has no power to discharge Schoepferle, but it has the right to inquire into the matter, and to request his removal."

A minority report by the two Democrats on the committee admitted the brutality, but wanted the prisoner transferred from court work to some other work of the sheriff's office.

A Play for Delay

Meantime the paid shysters of the deputy, and the sheriff were busy with the old party supervisors to at least secure delay. While they argued that the board had no legal right to order the sheriff to discharge a deputy, which every supervisor was already well aware of, they were still mightily afraid the board would, on behalf of public decency, use its admitted right to request the sheriff to act, as this, followed by a refusal by the sheriff, would lay the way for an appeal to the governor, who has authority over the sheriff. The legal gentlemen did their work well, for when a motion was made to refer the matter to the district attorney (merely for delay) all the Republican and Democratic supervisors supported it, only four votes being required for such action under the rules.

Supervisor Frederic Heath (S.-D.) introduced a resolution regulating the LABOR UNIONS AND POLITICAL PARTIES.

"The trade union is that organization of labor which seeks for the improvement of the workingmen's condition on the field of the present order of government and society... but must carry on workingmen's politics—class struggle politics."—Extract from the book.

transportation of persons to the house of correction from the county jail, showing an inhuman overcrowding of the so-called "Black Maria." It was as follows:

WHEREAS, Reliable information is at hand to the effect that twenty-four prisoners, two of them were females, were carried out to the house of correction from the city courts on Monday, June 6, all of whom were crowded together in constrained positions in a covered wagon and locked in; and

WHEREAS, The further information is given by officers at the house of correction that, whilst the wagon so employed is not always overcrowded, there are days when as high as thirty prisoners, both men and women, are packed together into the said wagon and hauled the long distance out to the said city prison, an abominable and inhuman practice which the law would punish in the ease of the transport of brute animals under like conditions; therefore,

RESOLVED, That this county board of supervisors hereby records itself as inflexibly in favor of the humane treatment of prisoners and that it recommends that the committee on house of correction draft an ordinance regulating the transportation of prisoners in accordance with the promptings of decency and humanity, and that it present same for consideration at the next meeting of this board.

The above resolution was prepared by Supervisor Heath as a result of observations made by another Socialist, Ex-Ald. Nicholas Peterson, recently appointed by Chairman Sheehan (S.) to be a member of the county civil service board.

Supervisor Heath (S.) also made a motion that all meetings hereafter be held in the board room, saying, jokingly, the "dignity" of the board is of greater importance than the dignity of the court. The motion was passed by a unanimous vote. The board had been obliged to meet in Judge Karel's courtroom.

Perpetual Claimants

The opening gun in the battle of the towns of the county to substitute the old system of representation in the board for the one now in use, was fired when former Supervisor Luka Scanlan, chairman of the town of Oak Creek, in his own behalf and that of the chairman of the other six towns, formally demanded that the present supervisors vacate their offices. Supervisor Mensing (S.) moved that the demand be refused, and the motion was carried unanimously. Before the meeting began each supervisor was served by a deputy sheriff with a written demand to resign his office. The same petitioners appeared before the last state legislature for relief, but were flatly turned down. They are now feeding lawyers in the hope of better luck in the legal game.

By Supervisor Heath: RESOLVED, That the county clerk be, and he hereby is requested, in making the index for the proceedings of the board of supervisors, to adopt and use the so-called "subject matter index," with proper cross-references.

The question, How shall we teach our children to become Socialists, is one which is of utmost concern to all parents Socialistically inclined.

The Little Socialist Magazine overcomes this difficulty with considerable cleverness. It does not reveal its tendencies with unpleasant obtrusiveness, nor preach Socialism in a manner likely to become obnoxious to children, but clothes its teachings skillfully in small stories, fables and historical sketches, so that the children imbibe the Socialist spirit and conceptions almost unconsciously. The Little Socialist Magazine subscription price is 50 cents per year. Published by Socialist Literature Co., 15 Spruce Street, New York.

It has become literally impossible to mention even one-tenth of the names of The Herald circulation builders who are sending in new subscribers these days from every state in the union. But the following letter from a young woman in Texas should inspire every reader of The Herald to go out and get at least a club of four new readers for The Herald during the coming week:

—Tex., May 25, 1910.
"Comrades of The Milwaukee Social-Democratic Herald:

"The Herald is a splendid paper and, judging from my experience, it should not be hard to raise your subscription list to a million or more within a year.

"Everyone I have talked to, though they are not Socialists, are anxious to learn what the Socialists in Milwaukee are doing since they have captured the city. I am the only Socialist around here.

Book Notes

G. B. S. Calendar

If you are a Milwaukeeite and happen to walk into a book store in your city and ask for The George Bernard Shaw Calendar, selected by Marion Nixon, and published by Frank Palmer, 12 Red Lion court, London, take my word, you won't get it.

The same applies to New York, and in fact, every city in America, except one. Which? I can hear you ask, trembling with excitement.

Philadelphia! Let that sink into you.

And even the city of Brotherly Love wouldn't have it if it were not for the fact that the local Socialist party has a wide awake literature agent in the person of George N. Cohen. It matters little where a good book is brought out, Cohen just sniffs a second or two and then corals it in. This is even true where good books are produced in countries of foreign birth, as the Irishman once put it.

Enough of this rambling. I'm supposed to review the G. B. S. Calendar. In a word, this beautiful book contains quotations from the works of Shaw for every day in the year.

Now, don't think I'm foolish enough to try to review this book, for there are 365 quotations and practically all of them are on different topics.

All I'm going to do is to quote some that, in my opinion, are the best.

Patriotism is your conviction that this country is superior to all other countries because you were born in it.

There is no future for men, however brimming with crude vitality, who are neither intelligent nor politically educated enough to be Socialists.

Make money; and the whole nation will conspire to call you a gentleman. Liberty means responsibility. That is why most men dread it.

Gambling promises the poor what properly performs for the rich: Something for nothing. That is why the bishops dare not denounce it fundamentally.

Democracy cannot rise above the level of the human material of which its voters are made.

To withhold deserved praise lest it should make its object conceited, is as dishonest as to withhold payment of a just debt lest your creditor should spend the money badly.

Virtue consists not in abstaining from vice, but in not desiring it.

In heaven an angel is nobody in particular.

An Englishman thinks he is moral when he is only uncomfortable.

Any person under the age of thirty, who, having any knowledge of the existing social order, is not a revolutionist, is an inferior.

The worst sin towards our fellow-creatures is not to hate them, but to be indifferent to them; that's the essence of inhumanity.

Beware of the man whose God is in the skies.

Beauty is all very well at first sight; but whoever looks at it when it has been in the house three days?

Pretty speeches make very sickly conversation.

"All the world's a stage," only the privileged few are allowed behind the scenes.

The law's punishment is not in the least that he's not believed, but that he cannot believe anyone else.

The fox not only declares that the grapes he cannot get are sour, he also insists that the sloughs he is in are sweet.

Rationally considered, life is worth living only when its pleasures are greater than its pains; that is, never. So much for rationalism!

Every new yard of west end creates a new here of east end.

When a stupid man's doing something he's ashamed of, he always declares that it is his duty.

Philadelphia, Pa. EMANUEL JULIUS.

It is right and necessary that all men should have work to do, work worth doing, work of itself pleasant to do, work done under such conditions that it is neither overwearing nor over-anxious.—William Morris.

Stockholders Special Meeting

To the Stockholders of the People's Realty Company:

You are hereby notified that a special meeting of the stockholders of the PEOPLE'S REALTY COMPANY has been called to be held at the office of the Company, 344 Sixth Street, in the City and County of Milwaukee, State of Wisconsin, on Saturday, June 11, 1910, at 8 P. M., to consider the advisability of increasing the capital stock.

A large attendance is necessary to insure a quorum, which requires two-thirds of all outstanding stock. As our stockholders are widely scattered all over the country, IT IS URGED THAT ALL STOCKHOLDERS ATTEND, EITHER IN PERSON OR BY PROXY. In case you decide to be represented by proxy, kindly assist the tabulation of the proxies and prevent delay in calling the meeting to order promptly at the time specified, by having your proxy properly filled out, filed with the secretary at the office of the company not later than 3 o'clock P. Herald readers and locals west of the Wisconsin river, who would like to have a call and a lecture by the state organizer late in June or early in July will please send in word by the earliest mail possible. We cannot spare much time from the office on this work just now, but want to make a trip count for the most possible.

By the way, have you noticed that some papers have a different effect upon their readers, with reference to results in party organization and campaigning? We notice it here very much. Better push the paper that gets results. What is the use of putting your energy into a rat-hole, when you can put it into an incubator and see something permanent come out. This does not apply to any one paper. And it would apply to different papers in different states. We have

AT THE THEATERS

BIJOU—"The Two Orphans"
"The Two Orphans," D'Ennery's famous drama of Paris of olden days, will be the offering at the Bijou for week starting Sunday afternoon. "The Two Orphans" embodies a story of unusual appeal. There are the sisters, Louise and Henriette, who come to Paris, and fall into the hands of the Frochards; there is their suffering and temptation, their hardships and sorrows, in the thieves' den; there is the birth mystery, that runs through the story; the fatal quarrel between the brothers, Jacques and Pierre, ending in a knife duel to the death; there is, at last, a happy ending to the whole.

ALHAMBRA—"Julie Bon Bon"
"Julie Bon Bon," a most successful comedy, will be the elaborate offering of the Alhambra Theater company for the week beginning Monday night. Julie Bon Bon is a French milliner whose amatory adventures make a play that sparkles from start to finish with fun. Matinees on Thursday, Saturday and Sunday.

EMPIRE—Vaudeville
The management of the Empire announce the engagement of Lottie Madison, the "diving queen," who has been contracted at an unusually large figure to play one week at the popular south side show house. Six other good acts complete the bill.

MAJESTIC—Vaudeville
Dr. Carl Herman, the electrical wizard, headlines the excellent vaudeville bill at the Majestic for the week beginning Monday afternoon and the act will be a revelation to Milwaukeeans. Other features include Gus Edwards' "Night Birds," a pretentious musical act. Henry Horton and company, the Three White Rhinos, Jolly, Wild and company.

COLUMBIA—Vaudeville
Fink's Mules heads next week's bill at the Columbia. Other acts: Rees, Prosser and Reed; James A. Dunn; Guerrero and Carmen; George Malchow.

AUDITORIUM—Innes
Sunday night Innes' orchestral band will give the first concert of the music festival which is to continue two weeks, with Wednesday, Saturday and Sunday matinees. For the first week of the festival Mr. Innes will specialize in his program, and on Wednesday afternoon announces a Mendelssohn—Liszt matinee at 3 o'clock. To this concert Mr. Innes invites the piano students and teachers of Milwaukee.

What Does THIS Want-Ad Mean to YOU?

Employers want more good stenographers than we can graduate. They need them. They demand that we furnish them. No one must get some from the outside and test them by Badger State University.

But we want more beginners now, that we may train them by Badger State Standards and fill these daily demands with graduates who know the best.

THE BEST TIME TO ENTER SCHOOL IS NOW, NOT SEPTEMBER
Entering the school now, you will finish when graduates are scarce and vacancies the most plentiful.

You don't have to enter a class of boy and girl together. You will get special personal training. The teachers will work with you individually and bring out the best that is in you.

Get into the work of preparation now. If you are unemployed you can enter the day classes any time and graduate when you are fit, regardless of others. If you are employed and want something better, enter the right classes, Tuesday and Friday nights, and get ready for one of these good places.

Our New College house was specially planned and built for our students and therefore has better facilities and arrangements than any other Business College in the Northwest. High-class instruction, light airy class rooms, Club rooms, Library, large hall, shower baths—every modern help and convenience.

Now is the best time to begin.

And What Are You Going to DO About It?

Espenhain's Pony and Cart Contest
Is making a great hit

This beautiful pony, cart and harness will be given to the most popular boy or girl in Milwaukee and vicinity at the close of this month. Nearly three hundred eager workers are after it. Every one can help some boy or girl to get this elegant little outfit. There are lots of worthy boys and girls both contesting for it and every vote will help and the votes do not cost anything. Go down to Espenhain's and see this pony. You'll want it—then work for it or help some one else.

About the Bond Issue

There has been considerable said about the city's inability to sell the authorized issue of bonds at 4 per cent. The general tenor of the remarks indicate a feeling of the speaker to be that it would be a VERY SERIOUS MATTER were we not able to sell the bonds at this time.

It was a foregone conclusion long ago that the city's debt commissioners could not float any considerable amount if their hands were tied down to 4 per cent, but had the resolutions for 4 1/2 per cent passed the council at schedule time, they could have been contracted for at a very small margin over 4 per cent—$25,000 having been asked for at 4 1/2 per cent. This offer is not being held open, however, and by the time the obstructionists get satisfied, offers may not be so favorable. The tendency of loan market is upwards.

However, the seriousness of the situation HAS TWO SIDES TO IT. This administration is in a measure obligated to issue these bonds—I say in a measure, because it is quite evident that the matter was not put before the people who voted for the issue, in a manner that enabled them to vote intelligently. This is a feature of the referendum not sufficiently appreciated.

A large portion of the bonds are for ordinary city work that should be taken care of with our ordinary income. To go in debt for what should be considered running expenses is financing of the most reckless variety.

If we are not able to keep our streets and bridges in repair, we better call a halt and understand what is the matter.

If we are not willing or able to pay for what we are actually consuming, when will we be able to do so with years of interest added?

We can afford to borrow a few millions for purchase of land that will appreciate, or build an interurban depot, electric lighting plant, or for collecting our refuse for fertilizing purposes—anything that will be self-supporting and add to the efficiency of our socialized economies—but to borrow $1,000 at 4 per cent to repave a street, is the keynote of bad management. And I hope the present administration will not continue any such conduct on its own responsibility.

We are now paying about $400,000 interest annually and upwards of $800,000 redemption of bonds—in all, it takes now, in round numbers, $1,200,000 annually to pay debts made twenty years ago.

A large portion of this is for "dead dogs." The only way to get out of this fix is to stop repeating such errors. Let us keep our expenditures for ordinary city maintenance within our income. If we do so, we will have more money to spend each year, and by not paying 40 cents interest on every dollar for the support of capital, our money will reach further in purchasing our needs.

C. B. WHITNALL

Socialism at Crystal

The closing week at the Crystal will see the production of the first dramatic sketch devoted to Socialism that has thus far been given at a local playhouse. The sketch is in one act, and was written by R. A. Kasper of Chicago, and is so distinctly Socialistic that it has been called "Socialism." This will be its first production on any stage, and its presentation next Monday will be under the personal direction of its author and J. A. Burnett, who will act as leading characters. It also tells of the leading characters. It tells of the

Ringling Brothers Circus

Robledo, the Mexican wizard, high-wire acrobat, is coming to Milwaukee, Monday, June 20, with the Ringling Brothers. He is now one of their star performers. His act is a sensation in its way. It stands in a class by itself. There are many wire-walkers. None of them has ever succeeded in doing this man's simplest feat. He receives the biggest salary ever given to a single performer. This wonderful artist runs, jumps, stands on his head and turns hand-springs on a slender steel wire. There is no net beneath it. He introduces a great deal of comedy in his specialty by imitating a drunken man coming home in the early hours of the morning. His act is a marvel of mimicry. Performed on the solid floor of a theater stage it would be a headliner. But this man does the act on a slender wire. One moment the audience is laughing at his funny legs as they wobble and falter from one end of the stretch of wire to the other. The next moment they are lost in amazement as they realize the skill that is necessary to accomplish the feat. Another remarkable feature is the Arthur Saxon trio of the world's strongest men.

Basket Picnic of North Wards
Comrades, take note that the joint basket picnic given annually by the Sixth, Thirtieth, Twentieth and Twenty-first Ward Branches will be held this year at Boddenhagen's park, corner Blue Mound and Hawley roads, on Sunday, July 31. A good, live committee is at work. Several interesting features are promised and no pains will be spared towards making it the most sociable of basket picnics. The next meeting of the committee will take place at Comrade Wank's home, 1022 Eighth street, Thursday, June 10, and a full attendance is requested.

Duane Mowry

An interesting thing about the reelection of Supt. Pearce last Tuesday was the fact of Director Duane Mowry's support of the superintendent for another term.

For a complete and amazing flop, Mowry's turn-about is the limit.

Up to the time Mowry became a candidate for civil judge this spring he was a persistent and violent anti-Pearce man. Now Pearce is before all things a politician. How Mowry suddenly became a Pearce man from that time on is not known.

Mowry up to four months ago was butt-holing fellow school board members on the street corners after the board meetings and showing them that something must be done to get a real educator, a university man, for superintendent of schools. Milwaukee needed a man whose scholarship the teachers would respect, a superintendent whose circulars to the teaching force would not be full of bad grammar, etc., etc. Something must be done to save the schools from disgrace. Some other city should be allowed the gold brick and welcome.

When Mowry entered the lists for civil judge, ex-School Director Richardson, who had been defeated for reelection to the board, evidently saw his chance. He became the chief booster of Mowry's candidacy for judge, evidently knowing Mowry's temperament and wishing to put him under obligations. Mowry was defeated for judge, but somehow, from that time on, he was Pearce in a more favorable light and he voted for Richardson as a school director.

We are sorry to say that the Mowry type of citizenship is all too common. Yet the people are coming to despise the man who is unstable and pliable in public life.

The Milwaukee Socialist League is for a referendum on the civil judge. —Prof. A. H. in his book, "Catholic Socialism."

Electric Light from Garbage

Mayor Emil Seidel has had a private report prepared on what use can be made of the exhaust steam at the garbage plant. Fred Jones, M. E., prepared the report, holding that 600 street lights of 3,000 candle power can be lighted by the steam and that ice making machinery might be driven by it during the day time.

The mayor holds that it is but a question of time when two more incinerators will have to be built and that at that time there will be power enough to light the entire city. The present plant will supply one-third of the needed light. Thus Milwaukee will grow into a lighting system that can be put in operation without the construction of a special plant. The garbage of the city will be made to provide its light.

Engineer Jones recommends the flaming are. He says that in a test in this city this type of lamp developed 3,000 mean hemispherical candle power on the same current that brought out but 350 mean hemispherical candle power on the common inclosed are now in use.

He says the cost of equipping the present plant for lighting, including

Discovery That Street Railway Has Withheld Car License Fees For Years—Will Be Asked to Make Good

The sensation of Monday's council meeting was the communication from the mayor, laying bare the fact that the street railway has for years been dodging the payment to the city of the car license fees—amounting in all, in the years the dodging has been going on, to $72,000!

The mayor's communication was as follows:

Office of the Mayor,
Milwaukee, June 6, 1910.
To the Honorable the Common Council.

Following is the copy of a communication sent to me by the city attorney's office, and which explains itself.

Hon. Emil Seidel, Mayor of Milwaukee.
Dear Sir: This is to call your attention to the fact that for several years past the Milwaukee Electric Railway & Light Company has failed to pay its license fee per car per year to the city, as is provided for in most of the franchises of which said company is the assignee.

The fee originally provided for in the franchise was a fee of $10. In 1888 the Common Council passed an ordinance increasing this fee to $15 and the supreme court upheld the increase under Section 1862 of the statutes.

In 1895 the state legislature passed a law providing for a license fee in the nature of a tax, which was to be in lieu of all other license fees, but this clause was stricken out by the revisors of the statutes of 1898, so that from 1898 up to the present time the street car company should have paid the said license fee of $15 per car per year.

The provisions in the franchises were kept alive by Section 3 of the blanket franchise of January 2, 1900.

After due investigation and consideration the city attorney is of the opinion that proceedings should be started at once to collect the back fees and that the company should be forced to pay the license fees for this year. The law simply provides a means for enforcing the collection of the fees for this year.

Enclosed herewith is a resolution which is proposed on the part of the city attorney, and the request is made that the resolution be presented to the Common Council with such comments and other communications in connection therewith as your Honor may deem fit. Respectfully yours,

DANIEL W. HOAN, City Attorney, by Clinton Williams, Special Assistant.

Enclosed you will please find resolution, which if adopted will enable the city attorney's office to proceed at once to collect back fees. With the advice of the city attorney's office, I shall take such measures as are necessary to bring about the enforcement of the law in the future.

Respectfully submitted,
EMIL SEIDEL, Mayor.

Come Off Your Perch, Chief!

Chief Janssen pretends to be much disturbed for fear there will be an increase of crime if the policemen in the employ of the city are allowed to devote a day every two weeks to their families.

He fears also that the cost of putting on extra men will sink Milwaukee into irretrievable bankruptcy.

And he fears that if the policemen have one day of family life every other week it will ruin the discipline of the police force.

And somehow—never mind how—he has succeeded in getting The Sentinel and Free Press editors to join in the alarm.

The attempt to put Milwaukee in a panic over the affair has been adroitly managed, and the only hope of its succeeding lies in the ignorance of the real facts on the part of the public.

And we must say the attempt of the chief to head off the "offs" is little short of disreputable. He has not hesitated to deceive the public in the matter.

The department will NOT be weakened—it is Janssen himself that has been weakening it. And the city will NOT be bankrupted, for the money for the extra men WAS PROVIDED FOR MONTHS AGO.

Here are the facts which Janssen is dishonestly hiding: Subsequent to the Zinda affair the common council authorized Janssen to put 78 additional men on the force.

It appropriated the money to meet the added expense. The money was transferred to the police fund and has been available ever since.

Janssen, however, seems to have made no effort to fill out the quota of his men, and as a result—

Thirty-one thousand dollars of the money turned over to him STILL REMAINS IN THE POLICE FUND!

And thinking the public ignorant of this, Janssen has opposed the offs because it would involve "an expense of at least $12,000."

Chief Janssen better come off his perch. And The Sentinel and Free Press editors would do well to let someone else play claque to the foxy police chief.

City Hall Happenings

Monday's council meeting brought the tactics of the old party aldermen out in a light not at all favorable when they voted to lay over the mayor's appointment of Harry E. Briggs as commissioner of public works. Ten aldermen voted to lay over on the pretext that they had not taken the appointment seriously and so had not investigated his record. The appointment will be confirmed at the next meeting and on June 20 one of the most important of the city departments will be brought within the control of the workers' administration. In this department more than in any other the Social-Democrats will be able to accomplish things for the people and the old methods will be wiped off the board.

The Social-Democrats showed that they are in earnest regarding street car service improvements. Two ordinances were introduced in compliance with the Berger resolution of a month ago. One of these provides for lifting jacks on all cars of sufficient power to enable the crew to lift a car eighteen inches. The other will compel the thorough sweeping of each car at least once daily and the thorough scrubbing of each at least once each week. Filth may be at such times and in such places as the health commissioner may direct. The health department is empowered to enforce the ordinance. Fine with no prison alternative is the punishment in both cases, $50 being the minimum and $100 the maximum.

Ald. Samuel Wright, with no regard to a solution of the street car problem, brought in two ordinances probably aimed at the Berge line in connection with its operation of large cars on Wells street in connection with the interurban line. One of the ordinances prohibits the operation of trailers and the other prohibits the operation of cars with more than one step between the platform and the street level. The big cars have two steps. In contrast with the plans for a solution of the interurban difficulty suggested by the Metropolitan Park commission, Ald. Wright presents no solution, but merely introduces a blocking measure.

On Tuesday the administration was informed by a committee from the Milwaukee Clearing House association that it will be impossible to place city bonds at less than 4½ per cent, confirming the stand taken by the administration. The opposition aldermen, led by Ald. Carney and Smith, blocked in committee the sale of bonds at an interest rate higher than a per cent, making a huge bluster about being misled and victimized. The administration then put forth greater efforts to place the bonds and this week its last resort proved "of no avail." Controller Dietz says that to raise the interest rate is the only hope of selling the securities. Meanwhile city work is tied up by the old party aldermen.

Chief Janssen bobbed up again at Monday's council meeting with a request that the aldermen rescind their action giving the policemen one day with their families out of every fifteen. The chief makes no new argument and is more temperate in his old one. He says he will be short-handed, although admitting that he has not now all the men he is empowered to have.

Health Commissioner W. C. Rucker is on the trail of Milwaukee housing conditions. He is preparing legislation to abolish some of the worst evils—and he has found some glaring ones. He says that the problem is a difficult one to deal with and one that cannot be solved in a day. There appears one difficulty in abolishing poor housing conditions. To interfere with them interferes with profit and the profit takers still have a good many cards to play. We'll win the whole game in the end, however. But it must be. On to Madison and on to Washington.

There's an air of being busy about the city hall these days that is mighty good to see. The Social-Democrats are proving themselves real public servants and it is safe to say that it has been many years since there was a body of public officials in Milwaukee who so conscientiously considered every phase of public welfare before taking action. They're on the job early and late.
